

STATE HELPLESS IN FLOOD GRASP

PORTS FROM OVER COUNTRY INDICATE THAT LOSS OF LIFE WILL RUN INTO MANY THOUSANDS—TWO HUNDRED REPORTED DROWNED AT PERU.

LOSS AT DAYTON, OHIO

Thousand Lives Claimed by Angry Waters in Terrible Storm in Dayton, According to Report.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 25.—A statewide flood so appalling in its intensity and terrifying in the madness with which it came, claiming dozens or more lives, made nearly 20,000 homeless and has done very damage of more than $20,000 in Indiana today and tonight. Helpless from the first rush of waters, which caught the state unprepared, the following desperate attempts to save life and property seem inconsequential. In many places it was too late to avert the overflow, attention was turned to rescuing persons trapped in their homes, and the work only has kept down the list. The White River and several creeks which surround the business district of Indianapolis, ordinarily little streams, and dry in summer, tonight are raging torrents, sweeping everything in their paths. When the street car service was stopped at noon it trapped thousands in the business district. Some bridges unsafe and closed to traffic, and the waters sweeping over the others, vehicles and pedestrians. For tonight, are crowded to their roofs. As many as 10 persons are being in a room. The Young Women's Christian Association has been open to working girls and all girls are unable to reach their homes.

The White River levee at Morris went out tonight, submerging hundreds of homes, adding a thousand to the 7,000 who were homeless. The break came at a point least expected. Thousands of spectators were lining the river when with a roar could be heard blocks, hundreds of dirt in the levee crumbled under the pressure and great walls of murky black water rushed through opening. People living in the vicinity rushed from their homes carrying what property they could hastily up in sheets, table cloths and bedding. Men, women and children went through the water toward a bridge which seemed to offer only safety. It was thought the water would lessen the pressure on the levee but all hopes of saving part of the levee has abandoned. All families were moved from the levee. Many homes were torn to pieces by the rush of the water and were floated away on the water. No loss of life has been reported but several persons are reported missing and in the crowd on the levee, mothers and fathers sought their children.

The Washington street bridge that connects West Indianapolis with the city proper, is shaky tonight and it is feared it will be torn out. Small boats floating down the stream are tearing the structure when they reach it. The bridge is closed to traffic tonight. Indianapolis is practically dark for the majority of street lights are shut out and water swirling through the streets is entering cellars, extinguishing furnace fires, while the mercury constantly is dropping.

The water in some of the streets of Fall Creek, only fifteen miles from the business district, is rising everything before it. It is feared that horses are forced to ford the streets.

A relief fund was started tonight. The city appropriated $3,000 for relief of the flood sufferers, but the amount is inadequate.

200 Victims at Peru, Ind.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 25.—Two hundred or more are drowned at Peru, Ind., according to a message received by Governor Ralston from that place tonight. The Governor's informant, named Baker, asked that 200 coffins and food and clothing be sent to Peru at once.

"This probably will be the last message you will get from Peru," said the man. "Two hundred or more are drowned, and the remainder of the residents are grouped on a hill waiting for daylight."

Governor Ralston immediately communicated with State Senator Fleming, at Fort Wayne, and asked him to forward the coffins and other supplies as requested. While the Governor was talking the wire to Peru failed.

"From what my informant said, there may be as many as 500 drowned at Peru," Governor Ralston said tonight. "I requested Senator Fleming to get the coffins and learned there were only 50 in Fort Wayne, but we hope to get sufficient number in Richmond and Wabash. I understand the survivors at Peru are huddled within two blocks, and in great distress. I have ordered a car load of food, and the Fort Wayne citizens are sending another car of provisions."

Big Reservoir Goes Out.

MARION, Ind., March 25.—Unconfirmed but persistent rumors here tonight are to the effect that the Grand reservoir at Celina, O., the largest of its kind, has gone out.

This, it is said, caused the unprecedented flood in the Wabash Valley. The report was brought here by a deputy sheriff who insists it is true. It is impossible to reach Celina.

5,000 Victims at Dayton, Report.

DAYTON, O., March 26.—No one can tell the number of dead claimed by the terrible storm that swept away the levees of this city today nor can the amount of damage be estimated, except that it will run into the millions. It is reported that the death list will reach 5,000.

Crowded in the upper stories of tall office buildings and residences, two miles each way from the center of the town, are hundreds of persons whom it is impossible to approach. At Wyoming street, three miles from which has been considered the danger line, water is running eight feet deep.

Hundreds of fires which are impossible to fight are burning. The rescue boats are unable to get further from the shore than the tow lines will permit. They cannot live in the current.

The Lewiston reservoir broke at 7 o'clock this morning, hurling millions of gallons of water into the swollen Miami. The crest is expected to reach here at 7 o'clock tonight, and will send the waters several feet higher.

John Hadkins and James Hoesay, privates of the Ohio National Guard, were drowned while in acts of rescue. The body of an elderly woman floated down near Wyoming street this afternoon, but the current was so swift that it could not be recovered. Unconfirmed reports say that 60 were drowned along the levees of North Dayton.

Late News from Dayton.

BROOKSVILLE, O., March 25.—The last man to arrive tonight from Dayton, 12 miles east of here, verified the report that the water is 30 feet deep in the business center of the city and running like a mill race. He asserts a hundred persons have been drowned. Many of them lost their lives when boats in which they were rescuing persons marooned on the second and third stories of office buildings were upset by the rapid current.

He reported that 10 militiamen on guard at the levee were carried down stream and drowned when the embankment gave way.

1,000 Homes Submerged.

CINCINNATI, O., March 25.—At 11 o'clock tonight the report that 1,000 persons had been drowned at Hamilton could not be confirmed. A newspaper correspondent at Hamilton stated that homes which would shelter more than a thousand persons were submerged, but nothing could be learned of their fate until daylight.

THE CLOVERDALE SITUATION UP

CONGRESSMAN MOSS AND DISTRICT CHAIRMAN RANDEL IN SOUTH PUTNAM WEDNESDAY TO TAKE UP THE POSTOFFICE MATTER.

IN ROACHDALE THURSDAY

Congressman Ralph W. Moss arrived in Greencastle Tuesday evening and Wednesday, accompanied by District Chairman Randel, drove to Cloverdale, where they took up the Cloverdale postmaster proposition. Mr. Moss saw all of the candidates and probably will make a decision in the matter.

Thursday Mr. Moss and Mr. Randel went to Roachdale, where they same question was taken up. Mr. Moss stated Tuesday night that after making his decisions in the Cloverdale and Roachdale situations, he would take up the questions of postmasters for Brownsburg and Clayton, in Hendricks county.

Then the Congressman will again take up the situation in Greencastle and Brazil. Mr. Moss stated that he probably would announce his recommendations for each of these offices at the same time. He further stated that the announcements probably would be made within the next week or ten days. It may be that he will announce his recommendations for four of the offices within the next few days, however, and leave the Greencastle and Brazil announcements for a later date.

HIGH WATERS CAUSE UNDERTAKER TO ANSWER CALL ON "SPEEDER"

Undertaker Hanna Tuesday afternoon received a call to go to Fern to prepare the body of Mrs. Katherine Cox whose death occurred Tuesday noon, for burial. Charles Cox, a son, after making several attempts to get communication with Mr. Hanna over the telephone, caught the Big Four accommodation and came here. After getting Mr. Hanna, the two found that they could not return to Fern either in a train or by wagon road.

Not to be daunted, Mr. Hanna obtained the use of a gasoline "speeder," or hand-car, and, with Clifford Frazier driving, went to Plummer's cut on the Big Four. From Plummer's cut Mr. Hanna and Mr. Fox walked through fields, pastures woods and barn lots to the Cox home.

Mr. Hanna says that from the Big Four bridge, the large series of arches over Little Walnut creek, just northwest of town, vast areas of water could be seen. The rising waters in Big Walnut creek had caused the current in Little Walnut to actually flow up stream and backed thousands of gallons of water up and over the Little Walnut bottoms. For a mile south and a half mile north of the bridge, the bottom lands were great sheets of water.

The Fern road, commencing at the Black bridge, on the Walnut street road just west of town, and on to Fern, there is only one place above water. In front of the Orville Earle farm there is a little piece of the road protruding above the flood waters. The remainder of the road is completely inundated.

Mrs. Cox had been ill for some time of pneumonia. Tuesday at 12:45 o'clock she passed away. Mrs. Cox was 77 years old and was well-known throughout that part of the county. On account of the impassible conditions of the roads the time for the funeral has not been set.

Wednesday arrangements were made for the funeral to be held at the home of John Cox, a son, Friday morning at 11 o'clock, providing the roads are in such a condition to make it possible. Burial will be in the Pleasant Hill cemetery. Mrs. Cox leaves several children.

Elmer Stratton is very anxious regarding the safety of his sister, Mrs. Wilson Annabel, who resides in Peru, which town suffered a flood catastrophe last night.

Death Claims W. E. Stevenson.

A telegram has been received with the news that William E. Stevenson, well known as a real estate dealer and promoter of a number of large enterprises in this city, died yesterday evening at Los Angeles, to which place he went early in February hoping to improve his health, as he was suffering from a nervous breakdown. Death was due to heart and kidney disease. His wife and only child, Mrs. L. F. Smith, were with him at Los Angeles.

Mr. Stevenson was born at Greencastle November 22, 1850, and removed to Indianapolis in 1888. Before coming to this city he had been engaged with his father, James D. Stevenson, in the hardware business and was cashier of the Putnam county bank at Greencastle.

The body will be brought to Indianapolis for burial. Mr. Stevenson's home in recent years had been on a farm on the Millersville road, near the village of Millersville.

He was the promoter of the erection of the Stevenson building, now the State Life, the first of the so-called sky-scrapers built in this city. This building was completed in 1896, after long and careful preliminary planning and in the face of many obstacles. At the time of its erection the enterprise was looked on as foolhardy in the extreme and people said that the investment would not be profitable. In 1905 he transferred his interests in the Stevenson, which then became the State Life.

He contributed greatly to the upbuilding of this city and figured prominently in the promotion of various railroad and electric interurban enterprises. Among these are the Indianapolis Southern railroad, now belonging to the Illinois Central and the Indianapolis & Newcastle interurban road. He promoted the erection of the storage warehouse, Union tracks and the South Pennsylvania street, the first big warehouse of the kind, known in Indianapolis. He had much to do with laying out subdivisions in the residential part of the city. Noted among these was the subdivision of the property of General Thomas A. Morris, between Central avenue and Alabama streets north of Twelfth street, a tract around which the city had grown years before and which was long taxed as farm property.

Besides a widow, who was Miss Margaret Worth, of Cincinnati, to whom he was married in 1872, he is survived by a daughter, Edna W. wife of Louis F. Smith, and a brother, David S. Stevenson, of Minneapolis, Minn.

In addition to his connection with the Putnam county bank, he was one of the organizers of the Central National Bank of Greencastle. He was a member of the Columbia and Commercial Clubs, the Board of Trade and the Marion Club.—Indianapolis News.

S. C. C. Club Entertained.

The members of the S. C. C. club gave a delightful entertainment to their friends last evening at the home of Miss Jessie Pierce. The feature of the evening was a minstrel given by the club members. The end men were the Misses Albaugh, Johnson and Buxton, while Miss Gardner acted as interlocutor. The soloists for the evening were Mrs. R. M. Hazlett and Miss Talbott. Miss Mary Curran rendered several pianoforte selections. The other members of the club took part in the chorus. The success of the entertainment was due largely to the careful training by Miss Kreigh of the Asbury Conservatory.

Following were the out-of-town guests: Miss Rose Mary Baker of Chicago, Miss Lou Anna Christy of Hadley, Miss Wilhelmina Tazwell of Philadelphia, Miss Haspel of Montezuma, Miss Susie Talbott of Elwood, Miss Honora Curran of Sullivan, all of whom are members of the club, came home for the evening's entertainment. An elaborate four-course luncheon was served and at a late hour the guests departed.

An Insanity Inquest was held on Frank King, age 49, who lives near the Cabinet factory this morning. Squire Frank Dr. Jerome Kign, Dr. Hutcheson and Dr. C. T. Zaring made the examination and declared King insane. A man was appointed to guard him until papers for his admittance to the asylum are received. King became violent Tuesday night and the police were called to quiet him. He has a wife and seven children.

GREAT DAMAGE DONE BY STORM

FIERCE WIND FRIDAY MORNING PLAYS HAVOC WITH SMALL BUILDINGS—HOUSES UNROOFED AND TREES BLOWN DOWN—TELEPHONE AND ELECTRIC SERVICE CRIPPLED.

THE LOSS WILL BE LARGE

At about 5 o'clock Friday morning Greencastle and vicinity was visited by one of the most severe wind storms, which has ever been experienced here. Accompanying the wind was a down-pour of rain. Thousands of dollars in damages was done. Telephone, telegraph and electric wires were torn down, small buildings blown down, houses unroofed, trees blown down and windows blown out.

All night long the wind blew a gale but it was not until about 5 o'clock that the gale reached its height. At that time persons were hardly able to stand before the wind. The crashing of falling trees, the rattling of breaking glass and the shrieks of the fierce gale filled the air. Buildings rocked and many people fled from their homes fearing that the building was about to collapse.

Friday morning the streets were filled with debris from the wrecked roofs. Store boxes and great tree limbs were scattered over the streets.

Small Cyclone Wrecks Havoc.

The second severe wind storm within three days visited Greencastle and vicinity Sunday night, doing much damage. Although the wind blew most all night, it was not until about 4 o'clock this morning that it reached the highest point.

Many say that the wind was as severe as on Friday morning, but the damage does not verify the assertion, there being little damage done Sunday night as compared with Friday night.

The worst damage reported was the blowing down of the large permanent awning in front of the Cook Hardware store on the north side of the square. The awning, which covered the entire front of two rooms was blown down and completely wrecked, several large window panes being broken by the debris. The loss will amount to several hundred dollars.

A portion of the tin roof was blown off the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charley Leutke on south Locust street, and damage to the amount of a hundred dollars or more was done by the water. The loss is covered by insurance.

Another severe loss was at the Fashion store. The rear part of the tin roof on the two-story section of the building was blown off and the store flooded. The building is owned by Mrs. Mary Allen, who has insurance. Mr. Hays, however, whose loss will amount to several hundred dollars, did not have any cyclone insurance.

A portion of the tin roof was blown off the barn at the home of Jesse Manis, who lives at the south end of Indiana street. The wind carried the tin quite a distance from the barn.

Although Greencastle and the immediate vicinity was not badly damaged by Sunday night's gale, the country west was visited by a cyclone which resulted in many deaths and thousands of dollars damage.

The storm in Putnam county was most severe in the neighborhood of Clinton Falls. Much damage was done there.

George Wright, who resides in this town, and who owns a large farm near Clinton Falls, was a victim of the storm. Mr. Wright's barn was unroofed, his windmill blown down, his house unroofed, a veranda was blown off of the house and a new 3-room chicken house demolished. James Bee, who has a farm in the same neighborhood, had a barn roof and a house roof blown off. Sam Bayment, also is said to have lost severely because of the storm. Telephone communication being completely cut off it is impossible to get details of many of the losses which probably occurred.

You can't prevent a tornado but you can protect yourself against loss by buying one of our famous "O. K." tornado policies.—Central Trust Co.—4 per cent. on deposits.

THE TOWN OF PERTH WIPED OUT; LOSS $50,000

The little town of Perth, ten miles west of here on the Big Four Railroad, was practically wiped out by a tornado shortly after 11 o'clock Sunday night.

The storm, coming from the west, struck the place when practically all the inhabitants were in bed, but strange to say, no one was killed outright.

One girl, Louise Foster, 7 years old, was injured about the head by falling timbers and it is feared will die.

The postoffice, Red Men's Hall church, two stores, a big warehouse and practically every dwelling in the town were destroyed. The property damage probably will reach $50,000.

Girl May Die.

The Foster house was completely demolished by the storm and the Foster family was caught in the falling timbers. The little girl was badly crushed about the head and it is thought her injuries will be fatal.

Although dozens of other houses were blown down, trees were uprooted and the air was filled with flying debris, fences and timber, not another person was seriously injured. All the principal buildings in the village are wrecked.

The schoolhouse was caught up in the storm, carried a distance of fifty feet, and crashed back to earth completely demolished. The wind left a row of houses standing next to the school building, took the roof off the Red Men's Hall and came down again to completely destroy the postoffice and store of Herschel Jalbert.

Five men were in the store with Jalbert when the storm struck the building. The timbers were crushed and scattered, but in some miraculous way all the men escaped. Jalbert's loss is estimated at $10,000. The other store in the village was twisted off the whole front end of the building and left part of the store standing.

Church Has Disappeared.

The church just back of the Jalbert store was caught up by the wind and not a trace of the building is left. A large warehouse near the railroad was blown down and it is reported that the depot is badly damaged. Most of the houses in the village were either completely destroyed or badly damaged. It is said not an outbuilding or barn is left.

Giant trees were torn up by the roots or were twisted and ground into splinters. Every moveable object, such as wagons, chickens and other small objects, were carried along by the wind and were deposited in unheard of places.

The telegraph wires and poles and telephone lines are almost a total wreck. The poles were wrenched from the ground and carried along by the wind or twisted to pieces and scattered. In some instances the poles were not pulled up, but were bent and twisted into splinters. Many miraculous escapes are reported.

CYCLONE DEATH TOLL NUMBERS TWENTY-FIVE

FIGURES GIVE IDEA OF STORM'S HAVOC.

Totals of the dead and injured in the track of Sunday's storm are as follows, according to reports received last night:

Dead. Injured

Terre Haute, Ind. 20 25
Chicago Ill. 5 40

ABOUT TO SHOOT A DOG LAD HIMSELF IS SHOT.

Ralph Patterson, age 16, son of Mrs. Henry Patterson, who lives in north Greencastle, was accidentally shot through the fleshy portion of the left thigh, this afternoon, by Jesse Murphy, age 17, who was holding an old delapidated revolver belonging to Patterson, while the latter was tying a dog, which he was going to shoot. The old revolver was accidentally discharged and the bullet, of 32-calibre, entered the left thigh in the fore part of the leg.

The accident occurred just north of town on the Dunbar farm, near where the Lynch automobile was wrecked this afternoon. C. J. Cassidy who had been called to help Mr. Lynch with his machine, took the injured lad into his auto and brought him to the office of a physician.

Patterson said that Marshal John had asked him to kill a tramp dog, which was running around the north part of town, and he accompanied by Murphy, Donald Leer, and Joel Fowler had gone to the woods to kill the dog, when the accident occurred. The injury is not serious.

Trees in Our Cemeteries.

The suggestion of trees in a cemetery reminds one of the many cemeteries throughout the state that do not have a single tree in them or on their borders. Our city cemeteries are usually very well cared for, yet they could be greatly improved. It is the country church yards that are the most frequently neglected. They usually crown a hill and their sentinels of marble so forcibly recall our youthful fear of ghosts that we whip up when we drive past them. Many our country cemeteries are a disgrace to the community in which they are located and are a public rebuke to the lot owners.

The cemetery should be one of the greenest spots on earth. It is there, where our fathers, mothers and dear children abide, whom in life we learned to love and whose memory we should cherish, after they are gone.

The cemetery should be beautiful, quiet and restful. These effects may in a great measure be obtained by planting trees along the boundary and in clumps. Formal arrangements should as far as possible give way to the natural. The old board, picket or iron fence should be replaced by some kind of a hedge fence. The Osage Orange hedge is to be avoided since it is often killed by the San Jose scale. The common privet will make a very satisfactory evergreen hedge.

The trees most frequently used are the evergreens, but their use has been practically discontinued in the best cemeteries. Their only advantage is that their leaves produce little litter. The deciduous trees are to be preferred, because they are more beautiful and varied in form. The many shades of color in their foliage is especially attractive. It is true that the leaves make a litter when they fall, but the ground thickly covered with leaves is pleasing and the mantle they form over the ground suggests warmth and protection.

The kind of trees to plant should be varied. Those on the outer borders should be long-lived trees which grow to a large size, such as the oak, elm, hard maple, tulip and sweet gum. Smaller trees such as the dogwood and red-bud can be used in completing group effects. Ornamental shrubs can be variously placed. Solitary trees can be used on the larger family lots and in open spaces. For this purpose the Norway maple and birch are frequently used.

This is just the time of the year to think of improving our cemeteries and it is suggested that the subject be taken up at the next meeting held in the churches.

Some Mayoralty Discussion Now.

Although the city election is still many months away, already there is talk of probable candidates for a few of the offices. Prominently mentioned as a Republican candidate for mayor is L. A. Beard, pastor of the Christian church. The Rev. Beard it is said, aspires for the nomination. So far there has been no intimation of whom the Bull Moosers will have to head their ticket.

Another Republican who is mentioned as a possible candidate is Rupert Bartley, interurban agent, who is mentioned as a probable candidate for clerk.

Andrew Durham, one of Greencastle's young attorneys, is being groomed by his many friends as the Democratic candidate for mayor. C. C. Gillen, another prominent young attorney, has been frequently mentioned in connection with the nomination. Walter Cooper, the real estate and insurance agent, and a most popular business man, too, has been mentioned as a likely candidate for the place. None of these men is making an active campaign for the nomination but friends of each are urging that he "toss his top-piece into the circle."

MANY VISITING MASONS HERE.

Fillmore and Coatesville Lodges Send Good Crowd.

Large numbers of members of the Applegate Lodge of Masons, No. 155, of Fillmore, and the newly organized lodge at Coatesville were here Wednesday night as the guests of Temple Lodge No. 47. The visitors attended the regular business meeting of the local lodge, after which the degree team of the Fillmore Lodge of Masons conferred the Master Masons degree on Foss E. Smith, a DePauw student.

Following the degree work, which was most excellently given, members of the Eastern Star Lodge served a buffet-luncheon. During the luncheon extemporaneous talks were given by members of the Fillmore and Coatesville lodges and by local lodge members. The affair was a most enjoyable event and was attended by nearly one hundred Masons.

The following members of the Fillmore lodge were here: Charles L. Amick, Charles Beaman, James L. Brown, John F. Coleman, Richard S. Cowgill, Paul J. Coleman, Edgar G. Chamness, Ora A. Day, Grover C. Garrett, Abner B. Hubbard, Arthur Herod, James C. Ogle, Enoch J. I. Proctor, Jasper E. Proctor, Henry C. Storm, George W. Sims, Henry W. Vaughan and William F. Zeiner.

The Coatesville lodge members present were: Harvey Hettler, Leslie Owens, Bert Knight, William McAninch, G. W. Bryant, Otto Lakin, Don Garrison, Charles Hill, Guy Masten, Alphas Phillips, Otto Masten, Ray Hufford of Stilesville, Joe Sharp, Allen Campbell, Elmer Fuson, Mr. McClurg and C. C. Branson of Claytown.

The Fillmore lodge, which was organized May 23, 1854, has a large number of members and has one of the best degree teams in this part of the country. The Coatesville lodge, which has not yet been granted a charter, being organized only a few months ago, is rapidly gaining strength and soon will rank in membership with other lodges in this vicinity.

Miss Lella Talbott is confined to her home by an illness of rheumatism.

OPTION ELECTIONS FOR CLAY COUNTY TOWNSHIPS.

BRAZIL, Ind., March 20.—Arrangements are being made by the liberal element in Van Buren township to call a local option election in that township in May as they believe that the township will vote "wet" if given another opportunity. Two years ago the township returned a small "dry" majority. It is probable that the anti-saloon element will call an election in Dick Johnson township which went "wet" by seven votes two years ago and will make an effort to put the three saloons at Perth out of business.

A local option election will also be called by the "wets" in Lewis township in May. Two years ago this township went "dry" by a small majority and the "wets" of Coal-mont believe they can carry the township this year. Washington township will also have a local option election, as there are two saloons in Bowling Green and the "drys" expect to close them up. It is hardly likely that a local option election will be called in this city this year, as the majority of over 800 for saloons two years ago was so decisive that there is little probability of it being reversed. The saloons here have obeyed the law to the letter and there has been little complaint from the public.

Eddie Lynch Wrecks Auto.

While driving his Ford automobile at a fast speed last Thursday, Eddie Lynch lost control of the car and it crashed into a bank at the side of the road, badly damaging the machine.

The body of the machine is broken and the front axle badly bent. Luckily, Mr. Lynch, who was alone in the car was not injured.

The accident occurred on the new rock road just north of town which runs east and west from the Rockville road to the Crawfordsville road. C. J. Cassidy was called to straighten out the wrecked car but could do nothing with it. A team of horses had to be secured to bring the machine to town.

Runaway Boys Arrested.

Two young boys one 13 years old, and the other 14, left their homes in Coatesville Thursday night and decided to venture forth, see the world, make their fortunes and return home. Incidentally the lads met the rain storm. Their father, Mr. Beck, connected with the Coatesville bank, had telephoned to the police here to be on the lookout for the travelers. Policeman Stone found them at the Big Four station about 5 o'clock Saturday morning. The boys had been out in the drenching rain and were completely exhausted. Their father came this morning and took the runaways home.

Harry Collins Sells Transfer.

A deal was closed today by which Harry Collins sells his transfer business to Fred Bryan, who recently sold his livery barn. Mr. Collins has been conducting the business for more than five years and during his business career here had gained many friends.

Mr. Bryan, the new proprietor, is well-known in Greencastle having been in the livery business here for many years.

The deal by which Mr. Bryan became proprietor of the business was closed today and Mr. Bryan will take possession of the business at once. Mr. Collins will take up farming as his future vocation.

and Robert Heber, to mourn her loss. The funeral was Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home conducted by the Rev. Baird. Burial was in Forest Hill cemetery.

Early Morning Fire Disastrous.

During the early part of Friday morning's gale, fire broke out in the Pastime Bowling Alley, on the northeast corner of the square, and only the prompt and efficient work of the firemen saved Greencastle a most disastrous conflagration. The fire, which started about 3:30 o'clock, was extinguished after about an hour and one-half of work. Policeman Stone, who was patrolling the square, saw the flames shoot out of a basement window and called the firemen.

The fire evidently started either under the floor near a stove. The blaze ate its way through the floor and then crept up the east wall, soon spreading to the ceiling. A hole several feet in diameter was burned in the floor, while a large hole was burned through the ceiling. The wall-papering was burned off the walls.

With the fire under the floor and spreading rapidly and the same conditions existing in the ceiling, the firemen worked at a disadvantage. Hard consistent fighting, however, conquered the flames before they could burn through the roof or spread to the adjoining building. The fact that the flames were confined to the inside of the building and protected from the blasts of the storm, no doubt saved the entire block from destruction.

The origin of the fire is mysterious. The alleys have not been in use for about three weeks and no one, so far as Daniel O'Connell, owner of the building, is aware, had been in the room during that time. The loss, which will amount to several hundred dollars, is covered by insurance.

The damage to the bowling alleys, which are owned by Peter Stoner, will amount to several hundred dollars.

When you pay for fire protection you are entitled to the very best. Be sure you get real protection by insuring with the Central Trust company. Four per cent. on deposits.

PROGRAM FOR THE INAUGURAL EVENT

President-elect Grose of DePauw to Be Formally Installed April 20.

Final preparations for the inaugural ceremony of President-elect George R. Grose of DePauw University have been completed. Several special features have been planned and a number of prominent men of the county have been invited to attend and take part in the ceremony.

Sunday, April 20, at 3:15 o'clock, Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes will deliver the sermon in the regular student university services. On the following Wednesday, April 29, the inaugural ceremony proper will take place. The charge to President-elect Grose will be delivered by Bishop Francis J. McConnell. Following this Dr. Grose will make his inaugural address.

The presenting of the keys and charter of the institution to the new president by Hugh Dougherty, president of the board of trustees, investing him with the full administrative powers of the university will be made a special feature of this service. Charles W. Fairbanks will preside.

Will Have Civic Meeting.

At 3 o'clock a meeting of civic as well as educational interest will be held in Meharry Hall. Jay Neff of Chattanooga, Tenn., will preside. President William Oxley Thompson of Ohio State University will deliver the address at this meeting. Special music is being prepared for each of these services by Robert G. McCutchan, dean of the DePauw School of Music. A number of vocal solos and choruses by talent from the music school are now being prepared.

Among the official visitors there will be President Theodore Kemp of Illinois Wesleyan, former President John P. D. John of DePauw University, President A. B. Harris of Northwestern University, President D. G. Seaman of Dakota Wesleyan and Dr. J. Birney of the Boston School of Theology.

During inauguration day there will be a large procession, consisting of ranks filled by visitors, students and members of the DePauw faculty. The feature of this procession will be the appearance of the various caps and gowns and the garbs of the various classes of the student body.

Among the list of those injured in the cyclone at Terre Haute Sunday night, is Mrs. Mary Neff, age 70 years widow of the late Willis Neff, formerly a Greencastle attorney and at one time postmaster of Greencastle. Mrs. Neff made her home with her daughter, Mrs. George Morris. They lived at 2115 South Center street. Mrs. Neff is reported as having her left arm broken.

CITY COUNCIL MAY NOW ORDER THE STREETS OILED

Hereafter it will be legal for city councils to oil the city streets and if necessary charge it to the property owners the same as if it were taxes. This was made possible by a law passed by the recent legislature and which was signed by the governor on Saturday. This has been done in some cities in the state for several summers, but has never been done in Greencastle. The oiling here has been done by the individuals and they paid the bills and also paid for some who refused to oil.

Hereafter if the city wants to take up the oiling all the parties on a street will have to stand for their share of it, because it will be taxed against them according to the front footage of their property. It is thought this law will be used all over the state by towns where the dust is very bad, and in this manner Greencastle will be no exception, as it has plenty of dust and the streets should be oiled this summer. They should be because of the great benefit derived from the oiling.

G. H. S. Defeats Indianapolis Team.

By overwhelming the Silent Hoosier team of Indianapolis in the last basketball game of the season, the Greencastle high school team won in most fitting fashion. The team representing the institute for the Deaf and Dumb, was not a match for the local five and was defeated by the score of 72 to 20.

By tossing 13 field goals and 12 foul goals, Small, the G. H. S. forward, was easily the star of the game, which was played before a large audience in Armory hall. On account of the inability of the visitors to make any noise, the local rooters refrained from noisy demonstrations, allowing the satisfaction that their team was winning to satisfy their enthusiasm.

Sharp, the other high school forward, played an excellent game, tossing 9 field goals, while Smith at guard landed the ball in the basket 7 times.

The score of the game follows:

G. H. S. Hoosiers.
Small ..... Forward ..... Dryer
Sharp ..... Forward ..... Clark
Jones ..... Center ..... Hinkley
Smith ..... Guard ..... Wiggers
Welsh ..... Guard ..... Wiggers

Field goals: Small 13, Sharp 9, Jones 1, Smith 7, Dryers 1, Clark 2, Hinkley 3, Wiggers 1, Wiggers 1. Foul goals: Small 12, Dryers 1, Clark 2, Hinkley 3. Referee—Johnson.

Fire Department Saves an Auto.

While attempting to crank his automobile in the Cassidy garage this morning, John Huffman, who lives near Reelsville, came near badly damaging the car. The engine, when he started to crank it, backfired, the gasoline in the carburetor ignited and in an instant, the pan of the machine was a mass of blaze.

While one man rushed to the telephone to call the fire department the machine was pushed into the

MR. HENRY A. VOHL, 84 Somerset St., Plainfield, N. J., writes: "A friend sprained his ankle so badly that it went black. He laughed when I told him that I would have him out in a week. I applied Sloan's Liniment and in four days he was working and said Sloan's was a right good Liniment."

A quick run by the fire department and the use of the chemical apparatus, served the purpose and the blaze was extinguished before much damage had been done. Many cars have been totally destroyed by accidents of this character and Mr. Huffman was indeed lucky to get off without serious damage to his machine.

Damage Suit is Filed.

Clint Parker, of Greencastle, through his attorney, C. W. Dunlap, has filed suit in the Putnam County Court against B. Z. Caplinger, the Caplinger hotel proprietor, asking damages of $2,642, alleging breach of contract. The suit grew out of a proposed contract by which Mr. Caplinger was to trade some lots in the rear of the hotel and the hotel furnishings for a Monroe county farm. The plaintiff alleges that the contract was agreed to and that Caplinger refused to fulfill his part of the contract. Mr. Caplinger states that the cause of his refusal to carry out the deal, was that the plaintiff could not furnish proper abstracts for the property they wanted to trade him.

"I've been selling Studebaker Wagons and Buggies for over 30 years."

"I've sold them because my reputation as a dealer was at stake and from experience I have found that Studebaker means the best."

That tells the story. Farmers bought Studebaker wagons before the Civil war and they have been buying them ever since. Because they had confidence in the name Studebaker and in the sturdy, dependable wagons and buggies they build.

And that confidence has been upheld. Studebaker wagons are built on honor and the Studebaker guarantee goes with every one. There's a Studebaker for your needs—whether you live in city, town or country.

His Loss Deplored.

The officers of the Troy Wagon Works company have sent to the employees of the organization the following letter, which speaks for itself: To the Organization:—

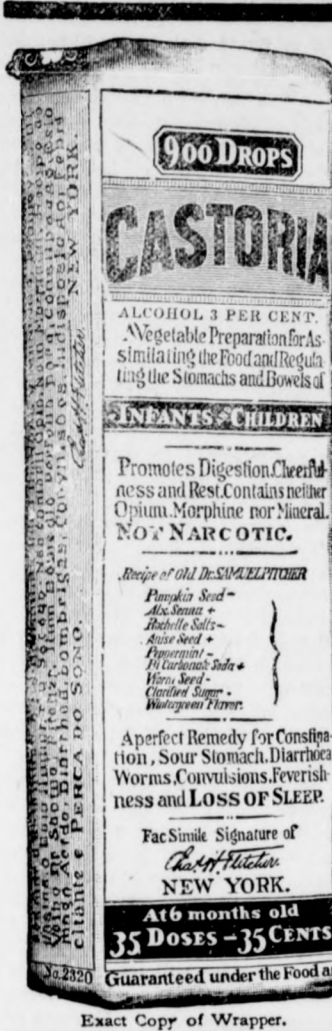

It is with deepest regret that we tell you of the death of Mr. W. W. Hurst, at Fond du Lac, Wisconsin, on March 12th, 1913.

His death means a big loss to our organization. He was one of the best natural salesmen we have ever come in contact with, and backed up his ability with earnest hard work, and enthusiasm which never failed to get results.

All of you who have met him will remember him as one fine square fellow whom you had to like and admire. He had worked for Troy in many different territories and always made himself felt by the results he obtained, and the host of friends he gained.

He was a salesman and a gentleman—it was worth while to have known him, and worked with him.

Obituary.

Not dead but sleeping, Mrs. Cora B. Harriman fell asleep in Jesus about nine o'clock Sunday morning, March 8, 1913; aged twenty-three years, four months and twenty-five days. Cora was married on Sunday April 11, 1909, to Mathew Harriman. They at once went to housekeeping at Brazil, where they have lived until death called her away. To this union was born a daughter, Saturday, March 1, 1913.

She was a kind and dutiful wife, a gentle and loving sister and daughter. She joined the Antioch Christian church at Hamrick in 1905 and has always lived a true and faithful Christian life, always willing to lend a helping hand to those whose need it. To know her was to love her. Today everyone is inexpressibly shocked to hear that "Cora is gone from us." While we know she cannot return to us we should all strive to live such a life as will fit us to go home to her. Neither should we want to call her back to suffer pain and death when he knew that she is in a far more beautiful home where suffering is no more, but all sunshine. Yet it is hard for us to know we cannot see her coming home again as of old or hear her loving voice while we realize she is at rest. There is another missing link in our home which never can be filled.

She leaves to mourn her sad and sudden demise a husband, daughter, father, mother, three brothers: Albert, Clarence and Lee; one sister, Edith, besides a host of other relatives and friends. Two sisters have gone on before. Sad it was for us to look upon her cold in death, sadder still to know we could not be with her during her short illness. While we know that all was done for her that loving hands could do but all in vain. God had spoken to her to come up higher.

Sleep dear sister, take thy rest. God called thee home. He thought it best. Farewell then until that happy morn when we shall meet around the throne.

Interment was private at Reelsville cemetery Monday, March 10.

Card of Thanks.

We want to thank our friends and neighbors for their help and kindness during the illness and death of our husband and father. We thank one and all.

Harry Brown, who is employed at Allen Bros., and who resides several miles north of town, walked down the railroad to his work on Tuesday morning, because of the high waters in the streams. Mr. Brown stated that the water in Walnut Creek was so high that it nearly reached the ties on the Monon bridge, north of town. In one place the water was seeping under a fill on the railroad right-of-way, and the road bed was in danger of being washed out. Mr. Brown brought word of the condition to the local agent and the section gang was sent to look after the trouble.

The announcement of the candidacy of Dale Crittenger of Auditor of State, has caused his many friends throughout the state to declare their support in his behalf. In all Indiana there is no more popular editor than the genial Mr. Crittenger. In the newspaper fraternity the Anderson editor is known as a man always eager and willing to do any service for the good of his party. But it is not alone with the newspaper fraternity that Mr. Crittenger is popular. His long and untiring service in the Democratic ranks has gained for him thousands of friends throughout the state, who will be more than pleased to support him in his race for the nomination. And the Democrats of Indiana could not nominate a man who would be better qualified or deserving of the nomination. The Herald is for Mr. Crittenger—first—last and at all times.

FLOODS TIE UP RAILROADS

With bridges and roadbeds washed out the railroads which pass through Greencastle, are virtually tied up. Through traffic is completely tied up and the few trains which are being run are only accommodations, which are running between Terre Haute and Indianapolis.

Neither the Vandalia or the Big Four are able to get trains into Indianapolis. The Vandalia has a long fill just west of the Belt line washed out and it is reported that the Big Four railroad bridge has gone.

Several trains on these lines ran to the edge of the city today, where they turned and ran back to Terre Haute. This service was unreliable, however.

In addition to its flood troubles the Big Four had wire troubles and the local agent was unable to reach Indianapolis to determine just what damage had been done to its tracks there.

And then to make it worse a freight train broke down right in front of the station at 11 o'clock this morning, falling in such a way that both of the tracks were blocked. It required more than a hour to get one of the tracks cleared so that the trains which were running could get by.

The Monon suffered just as much as the other lines. The only train run this morning was a combination local freight and passenger train, which started from Wallace Junction and went to Lafayette.

As the result of the railroads being tied up Greencastle was without out side newspapers and mail today.

Western Union Line Down.

The Western Union Telegraph system was put out of commission today and messages could not be sent to Indianapolis. Wire troubles resulting from high water washing poles out and allowing them to fall, caused the trouble.

Interurban Crews Marooned.

Conductor Meacham and Motorman Lacey, interurban men who live in this town, were due to arrive here on their car at 11:44 Tuesday morning. They were at Filmore Tuesday morning when the power was shut off and remained in that town until 7:15 o'clock Tuesday night. At that time Dispatcher Confer had the direct current turned into the trolley wires east of here, giving power enough for Motorman Lacey to run his car to this city. The power was so weak, however, that it was 12 minutes after 8 o'clock before the car pulled into the switch at the local station. This was the only car to move on the interurban after the power was shut off Tuesday morning.

Motorman Forest Hughes and Conductor Julius Bryan, crew on the eastbound car leaving this city Tuesday morning at 10:15, were at Ben Davis when the power was shut off. An hour later there was enough power to run the car to Stop 3, about six miles this side of Indianapolis. And here the car still stands, with Mr. Hughes and Mr. Bryan still aboard. A Switch engine on the Vandalia run out from Indianapolis Tuesday afternoon and took the marooned passengers on into Indianapolis.

Motormen Young, Gilliland and Bonner and Conductors Gorham, Oakley and Lynch, all of whom live in Indianapolis, run their cars to Greencastle Tuesday morning and went to their homes in Indianapolis on the last train into Indianapolis on the Big Four Tuesday.

Interurban officials say it is probable that it will be several days before the conditions are relieved.

John Glendenning, of Indianapolis, grand inspector of the Royal Arch Masons for Indiana, inspected the local lodge Tuesday night and complimented them on their excellent work. The Mark Master's degree was given, after which a supper, served by the members of the Eastern Star lodge, was enjoyed.

The case of John A. Von Spreckle against Clifford Duell and Zaring C. Duell, which was tried in the circuit court some time ago and which resulted in a hung jury, has been sent to Clay county for retrial. The suit is to collect on notes given for the purchase of a stallion. The jury, when tried here, stood six for the plaintiff and six for the defendants. On being unable to reach an agreement, the jury asked to be discharged.

WOODY TO RESIGN AT CLOSE OF YEAR

SCHOOL BOARD CHOOSES SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT TO SUCCEED HIMSELF AT REGULAR MEETING HELD TUESDAY NIGHT—MISS JENNIE GAR PHONES RESIGNS AS ENGLISH INSTRUCTOR.

MISS EARLE IS CHOSEN

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the Board of Education was held Tuesday evening. The ordinary details of the board's business were dispatched, the arrangements for commencement were discussed, but the most important item of business to be transacted was the choosing of teachers for the school year 1913-1914. H. C. Allen, one member of the board, was not present at the meeting.

The election of teachers resulted as follows: for the high school: Murray A. Dalman, principal, Mathematics; Lillian E. Southard, assistant principal, History; Iro C. Trueblood, Science; Grace S. Allen, German; Kate Freeman, Latin; Frances Elizabeth Doan, and Florence M. Earle, English, and J. Paul Johnson, Physics and Mathematics.

District Principals—Oscar Thomas, Dillah Miller and Jewell H. Vaughn. Grade Teachers—Lee McClure, Lela E. Walls, Amy Smith, Mary Emma Jones, Florence N. Parker, Bertha F. Watkins, Etta Adams, Annie Stone, Laura Lella Florer and Minnie Buser. Also, Miss Millicent Coss, now on leave of absence.

Special teachers—Delphine Dunn, drawing; Jessie A. Patterson, Music and Callisthenics.

Miss Stacy Edna Abshire is now successfully filling the place of Miss Coss. Her work has proved very satisfactory.

Miss Jennie Gar Fones of the Department of English had filed her resignation with the secretary of the board. She has shown herself to be an able instructor. The acceptance of Miss Fones' resignation made a place for a new teacher. The choice fell to Miss Florence M. Earle. Miss Earle is a graduate of the local high school, a Phi Beta Kappa of DePauw University, and has had a year's training in the Indiana State Normal School. Her four years of successful experience is attested by excellent recommendations.

Superintendent H. G. Woody was chosen to succeed himself. He announces that with the end of the next year his work for Greencastle is to close, and that he has so stated this to the board in the most definite and explicit manner. He expresses the hope of making this last year the best of his administration.

The death toll of the Terre Haute cyclone now numbers twenty-one, with the probability that it will reach twenty-five before the rescue work is completed. Body after body has been taken from the wreckage. Four persons, who are known to have been in the district which was wrecked, have not been located and it is believed that their bodies will be taken from the wreckage sometime during the day.

The list of injured now reaches two hundred and fifty. Of these only three are reported as fatally injured. Many of those injured, however, will be crippled for life and many injuries are of such a nature that they may develop seriously and perhaps fatally.

State militia has been sent to the scene and now is guarding the wrecked district. Under the direction of the city and county officials the rescue work is progressing. Money has been subscribed to care for the homeless and everything that can be done for the victims is being done.

Cloud-Burst at Muncie.

Just after noon today Muncie and vicinity suffered much damage from a severe cloud-burst. The water fell in great quantities, flooding houses, swelling the streams and causing great loss. The water from the cloud burst drains into the White River and a dispatch from Indianapolis this afternoon said that the crest of the additional flood caused by the cloud-burst was expected there by 3:30 o'clock. The water before the rise from the cloud-burst stood within eighteen inches of the high water mark. Practically every house between West Indianapolis and Stop 3, about seven miles west, are under water. In some places four feet of water is standing in the yards, fields and pastures. The bottom lands are overflowed by waters from the White River and Eagle Creek.

EARL HOUCK'S HOME NOT DAMAGED BY THE TERRE HAUTE CYCLONE

The rumor here Monday that Earl Houck's home in Terre Haute had either been demolished or burned during the cyclone there Sunday night proved to be groundless. Mr. Houck's residence was just two two squares from the path of the cyclone but was not damaged in any way.

The message he attempted to get to his father Sunday night was to tell him that he was safe and that his property was not damaged, so that his parents would not worry when they heard of the disaster. However, the message was confused and the impression here was that his home had been burned.

Monday morning William Houck and Oliver Houck went to Terre Haute, believing that Earl's home had been destroyed. They were glad to learn, upon reaching Terre Haute, that he had escaped. The two men spent the day viewing the ruins of the demolished district.

Rev. and Mrs. F. E. Shipley, who live on east Anderson street, are the parents of a son, born Wednesday morning.

Bertha Sandy, wife of Bert P. Sandy, of Cloverdale, has filed suit in the circuit court against Sheriff Theodore Boes for the possession of a piano and $500 damages. The piano was taken from the Sandy home in Cloverdale by Sheriff Boes on a writ of replevin issued by the circuit court. The first replevin suit was filed by the Waltham Piano company. Last Saturday Sheriff Boes served the writ of replevin on Mr. Sandy and gave him the required time to give bond sufficient to retain possession of the piano until the litigation was settled. Sandy failed to give the bond and last Monday Sheriff Boes went to take possession of the property. Mrs. Sandy then interposed and claimed that the piano was her property. Sandy, however, had told the officers on Saturday that the piano belonged to him. Sheriff Boes took the piano over the objections of Mrs. Sandy and turned it over to the piano company, which gave the required bond. Mrs. Sandy then filed a suit of replevin to regain possession of the piano and also asks $500 damages of Sheriff Boes for taking the instrument. Although the piano is in possession of the piano company, the suit to recover it was filed against Sheriff Boes. Sheriff Boes, when taking the piano, was acting under the order of the circuit court. Prosecutor Sutherland represented Sheriff Boes and Allee & James, Mrs. Sandy. The case is set for trial on April 3. In the meantime the piano in dispute is stored at the West Furniture store at Cloverdale.

The Red Men are reminded of home-coming meeting to be held Saturday, March 29. All members urged to be present.

Dr. J. A. Throop and George Chittie went to Terre Haute Wednesday to witness the storm and high water devastations in that city. They returned to Terre Haute on a Vandalia train. Shelby Moler, who lives in Clay township, was here this morning reports that the storm did considerable damage in his neighborhood. During the storm Sunday night a large window was blown in at Dr. W. M. McGaughey's home in Indianapolis and is unable to home. Dr. McGaughey went to Indianapolis Tuesday morning and missed the last Vandalia train. He came to Greencastle. It may be tomorrow or next day before he gets home.

Miss Margaret Kreigh, who was in Indianapolis to spend Easter, is in that city although she had planned to return home Tuesday. Miss Kreigh has been unable to return home account of the flood. She hopes to get to Greencastle tomorrow.

Barton Shipley, the local musician played in Omaha, Neb., last week was to have played in Mitchell, the first three days of this week sent a card dated at Omaha on Saturday, saying that he would be the next day (Sunday) for Mitchell. Nothing has been heard from him since. His parents hope that he is in Omaha before the cyclone struck section and that he is safe.

MANY LIVES LOST IN INDIANAPOLIS

BREAKING OF LEVEE IN WEST PART OF CITY DESTROYS HUNDREDS OF HOMES—PROPERTY LOSS ESTIMATED AT MILLION DOLLARS.

HOMES ARE SWEEPED AWAY

With the breaking of a White River levee in west Indianapolis at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening more than 2000 homes were inundated and demolished and thousands of persons made homeless. It is reported that from 200 to 500 persons lost their lives when the levee went out.

The news of the tragedy reached Greencastle Wednesday over the interurban wires, the only source of communication between the two towns.

A gap a half of a mile long was cut by the torrents of water and hundreds of homes inundated. The first break occurred at 3 o'clock and hundreds of laborers were set at work attempting to save the levee. At first sacks of sand and straw were used to check the small break but the endeavors were useless and at 6 o'clock with a roar which could be heard for miles, the levee went.

Great torrents of water spread over the great territory and many lives were lost. Many persons were watching the great levy as it went out and many of these assisted in saving many of the refugees. The cry of the drowning could be heard for squares.

One of the most spectacular events of the day was when interurban line-men, climbed poles with the spurs, and walking hand over hand on cables, reached homes which had been deserted by terror-stricken parents, who left their small children to be drowned.

Three babies were found in abandoned homes by these brave men, who strapped them on their backs and returned over the wires to safety.

The property damage because of the break in the levee is estimated at a million dollars. Most of the families who lived in the flooded district are of the laboring class and the flood has caused them to loose the savings of a life-time.

As the result of the high water in Indianapolis the city is without water power, light or car service. All schools have been dismissed.

The rumor that the Kingan Packing Co. plant had washed away and that 150 were drowned, is groundless.

A large concrete bridge on West Washington street was swept away.

Rumors that the Big Four railroad bridge and the Vandalia bridge had washed away could not be substantiated.

CONDITION WORSE AT TERRE HAUTE.

Wabash River Levees Break at Point North of Terror-Stricken City; Waters Rising at Alarming Rate.

TERRE HAUTE, March 26.—With Taylorville homes all abandoned before the advancing water, most of West Terre Haute is flooded and all citizens warned to make. The levee above Maple avenue on the Wabash River broke at 10 o'clock last night and flooded Maywood Terrace. One hundred families in the north portion of Terre Haute, between Third and Fourth streets, are being kept from the property loss down but makes more suffering. Captain L. B. Trites was on the ground at once with an offer of help. It is thought all will be cared for in the homes of their neighbors. There were few houses of two stories in the flooded territory. Most of the homes were those of the small wage earner.

Four sharp pistol shots warned the residents of the district. One man dashed through the streets arousing the citizens and warning them of the flood. With a mighty roar and rush, the big wave swept through the district. Some houses were overturned, and houses were washed away. In an instant whole blocks of houses were standing in from five to 16 feet of water.

Sixty Families Homeless.
CLINTON, Ind., March 26.—Sixty families living in the north part of Clinton this morning are homeless. The Wabash river is rising at the rate of three inches an hour. The town is completely cut off from railroad and interurban communication. Many bridges have been washed out and others are tottering. Every mine in the vicinity is flooded, causing large losses.

Freight Goes Into Creek.

ROSEDALE, Ind., March 25.—Narrowly escaping being swept away completely by the raging Raccoon Creek near Rosedale, a Vandalia freight train lost a few cars. The train ran into a washout and 15 feet of water at the creek. None of the trainmen were injured.

Following just 30 minutes behind the freight train was a passenger train with 100 people on board. Only the prompt action of the freight crew saved the passenger train from disaster. The passenger train is the one which is due in Terre Haute at 11:20 o'clock in the morning.

Lafayette Threatened.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., March 26.—The business district of Lafayette is in immediate danger from the swollen Wabash river, which has reached and Seventh streets, were forced to abandon their homes and in a short time many of the smaller buildings were floating about the flooded district.

The district flooded is one occupied by laboring classes. This will be the highest point in fifty years. West Lafayette was cut off from East Lafayette when two spans of the big Brown street bridge sunk without warning yesterday afternoon.

RUSSELLVILLE DEBATORS WIN FROM WAVELAND

Debating on the question, "Resolved, That the Negro should be segregated," a Russellville high school debating team won from a Waveland team in the contest held at Russellville, Friday evening, March 21. The event was largely attended. The hall was decorated with flags, pennants and the colors of each school. The Russellville students kept the audience in high spirits with their school yells and songs.

Superintendent Malan, acting as chairman, called the house to order after which Miss Hargrave and Mrs. Scott rendered a piano duet. Following this, Miss Turner, a noted vocalist, of Danville, Ill., sang.

Superintendent Malan announced the judges for the evening as follows: Superintendent Hoover, Bloomington; Superintendent Hursbruner, Montezuma; Superintendent Mayer, Marshall, and then read the question, "Resolved, That the negro should be segregated." The speakers for the affirmative were: Ralph Bringle, Helen Fullenwider and Clyde Moore. The negative was upheld by Opal Williams, Edward Ford and Ancil LaFollette.

Miss Williams outlined the argument for the affirmative, spoke of the industrial advancement of the negro and emphasized the moral and religious duties of the white man to his less fortunate brother.

Mr. Ford showed that it was dangerous from a political viewpoint to restrict a citizen; that the constitution was a safe guard for life and liberty; and farther that it was the duty of the nation to correct the evil of immorality forced upon the race by the institution of slavery.

By a number of examples, Mr. LaFollette proved that all attempts at segregation had been an absolute failure. He said that the government must come from the consent of the governed and that it was only by the negro living with a better developed race that he could acquire the highest degree of social efficiency.

Although it was generally conceded that the affirmative had the better side of the question, they failed to substantiate their arguments. On the other hand the negative called into evidence, history, literature and the Bible, and with their fine command of English and of the subject were easy winners.

County Auditor Airhart started to Lebanon Tuesday morning to preach the funeral services of Mrs. Candice Ruth, an aged resident of that city. Mr. Airhart got only as far as Indianapolis, when he was compelled to return on account of the high water. Mr. Airhart has preached over 2,000 funerals and this is only the second time he has failed to get to his destination.

Members of the freshman class of the high school were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Browning last night. During the course of the evening, the refreshments, which were on a porch, were stolen. The affair was reported to the police and an effort will be made to ferret out the identity of the offenders. The high school authorities also are investigating.

WOMEN PRAISE THE PAPER'S GIFT

"AN OPPORTUNITY NOT TO BE MISSED" IS THE VERDICT OF ALL WHO HAVE SECURED A 5-PIECE SET OF THE ENAMEL WARE—ABSOLUTELY FREE.

WE HAVE ONE FOR YOU

Is there a woman in Putnam county who could not use a nice set of enamel ware in her kitchen?

And if some one would walk up to her kitchen door and say, "Madam, here is a nice 5 piece set of Enamel Ware for you," is there a woman who would refuse it.

But that is just what this paper is doing. Only the woman or her husband must come to the office and get the ware or send 50 cents to pay packing and parcel post charges.

It is being given to the readers of this paper absolutely free—think of that Mrs. Housewife—absolutely free.

The only requirement is that you pay three dollars for advance subscription to the Weekly Star-Democrat or to the Daily Herald. Then the set is yours. Of course you want the county news and would pay for your paper any way. So the paper is giving you a $2.50 present—just giving it to you.

We decided a short time ago that we would show our appreciation of the loyalty of the thousands of readers of our papers, by giving them a present which long would be remembered. After a lot of study we decided that something which would please the women and at the same time be very valuable to the whole family, would be the most suitable gift. After much consideration we decided upon the Enamel Ware.

And we believe that in selecting this gift we did a wise thing. For all who already have come to the office and secured a set have expressed themselves as being highly pleased. The women all say the set is a dandy—and it surely is. The bad weather has not kept them away. Storm or no storm they have come to get theirs.

And you are entitled to one also. Don't let your neighbors get ahead of you and get one while you allow the opportunity to slip by. The offer will not last long. The next time you are in town come in. We will be mighty glad to see you and show you the set. It sets right on our counter where you can examine it. Get one yourself and then tell your neighbor about it. The opportunity is yours—don't delay—do it now.

One lady came into our office last Saturday to see the ware. She did not look long. It pleased her so that she immediately secured one for herself. "It's just fine," she said. "I'm going up the street and tell my son about it. I know he will want one for his wife."

In less than fifteen minutes back she came. "Just wrap one up for my son, also," she said. "He is not taking any paper now but he wants one and could not afford to miss this opportunity. Send him the Daily Herald for a year."

At four o'clock two carriages drove up to the office and the mother and son's wife were made happy. Today five bright pieces of fine enamel ware are hanging in their kitchens to remind them of this paper. We want to please you just as much as they are pleased.

Come in or send in a check or money order by mail.

FOUR PER CENT OFFER DRAWS MANY NEW DEPOSITORS.

Central Trust Company Reports Many New Accounts Opened to Get the High Rate of Interest.

The officers of the Central Trust company of this city report that a large number of new depositors have opened Savings Accounts and taken Certificates of Deposit since their announcement in last week's issue of the Star-Democrat.

There is no question but that the high rate of interest will attract many people who have formerly been investing away from home, and will encourage persons who have never had a bank account to open a savings account and save a part of their earnings.

The officers feel very much encouraged over the response made to their announcement of the four per cent. rate, and state that the arrangement will be the means of bringing more money to Greencastle and at the same time afford our people the opportunity to invest their idle funds in a dividend-paying bank account with the privilege of withdrawal on demand.

If it were possible to obtain figures on the number of projects and speculative investments which have drawn money from Greencastle, it would no doubt be found, that thousands of dollars have been sent out of Putnam county to be invested in schemes of various kinds. But in the future the people of Putnam county can find good investment, here in Greencastle, which will pay them a high rate of interest.

REMONSTRANCE AGAINST PROPOSED IMPROVEMENT OF JOHNSON STREET.

At the meeting of the city council Tuesday night a remonstrance signed by C. H. Melkel, Timothy Murphy and A. J. Sandifur, was filed against the petition of Spear Pitman and others which asks that Johnson street be improved. The petition asks for new walks, curbing and roadway. The council at its last meeting ordered the city engineer to prepare plans and specifications for the proposed work. Mr. Lane, the engineer, however, was unable to make the surveys on account of the weather. The council took little heed of the remonstrance but ordered it put on file.

Councilman Jones, ignoring the threat of the council that his office would be declared vacant if he did not attend council meetings, was not in his seat Tuesday night.

Dr. Mullinix, through Councilman Cook, notified the council that he would file a suit for damages against the city if a drain on Bloomington street, which, it is said, is too small, and which causes water to back up into his cellar, is not remedied. The matter was referred to the street commissioner.

Several complaints have been made against men and boys who climb abroad the fire wagons when they are answering an alarm. Additional weight of anywhere from five to fifteen hundred pounds is added to the load pulled by the horses, thus impeding their speed. There is an ordinance making the act an offense and punishable by a fine. The firemen and Marshal Johns were ordered to file affidavits against any person who gets on the wagons from now on.

The following claim ordinance was then passed and the meeting adjourned:

Obituary.

Martha J., eldest daughter of Daniel and Lavina O'Neal Smith, was born in Shelby county, Ky., 1935, and had she lived until the 5th of April she would have completed her seventy-eighth year. Eight years more than the three score and ten scripturally allotted to mankind in the calendar of time. She came to Indiana when two years of age with her parents. She was one of a family of eight—four boys and four girls. Her parents were hardy pioneers who faced fearlessly the rock-ribbed and trackless forests of the frontier and spent their lives in casting up the highway and gathering out the stones that their children might inherit the promise. In the morning of life she gave her pure young heart and hand in marriage to John Carl Siddons, who survives her today, a veteran of the civil war, and by whose side she walked in peace for more than a half century. Her heart was in her home, though no children came to bless this union. She was just "Aunt Martha" to numerous nephews and nieces, relatives and friends who delighted in finding their way to her door, sure of a glad welcome and sunny smile. Funeral services were held at the Christian church, Filmore March 17, conducted by Rev. W. H. Brown and interment at Filmore cemetery.

Thousands of Women

Have Been Restored to Health By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

There is no doubt about this fact. Why! during the last 30 years we have published in the newspapers of this country volumes of letters from women who have been relieved of all their suffering by the timely aid of this grand old medicine. Letters like the following, true, genuine and honest expressions of gratitude coming from grateful hearts. Surely you can believe these women.

Mrs. L. S. BRENNER, Hudson, Mich., says:—

"Sometime ago I was taken with a terrible pain in my right side, such sharp pains just like a knife sticking me. I tried hot applications but that did no good. I went to our family doctor (we were living in Fayette, Ohio, at that time) and he said it was organic inflammation. I doctored with him a while but kept getting worse. The pain was so terrible I could hardly stand on my feet. I would have that sharp pain in my right side, and a dull heavy pain the whole length of my limb. I realized that something had to be done quickly, so I looked up all of your advertisements I could find, and saw several that described my case. I got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me from the first dose, and when I had taken two bottles my trouble was gone. Your medicine has done so much for me that I am willing you should publish this letter for the sake of other suffering women."—Mrs. L. S. BRENNER, Hudson, Michigan.

Mrs. L. E. BOWERS, Girard, Pa., says:—

"I take pleasure in informing you of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I had a sick spell last February, and for some months after that I was not regular and had many bad feelings. I was tired all the time, had dull headaches, not much appetite, and also what the doctor called organic inflammation. Your Vegetable Compound has entirely cured me and I feel that too much cannot be said in its praise as I am now able to do my own work. You are perfectly welcome to use my testimonial for the benefit of others."—Mrs. L. E. BOWERS, R.F.D. No. 1, Girard, Pa.

Mrs. ELIZABETH GENTILCORE, Buffalo, N.Y., says:—

"I feel that I must write to you about your wonderful remedies. About ten years ago I was troubled with female weakness and was all run down. I was tired all the time and could hardly walk without feeling dizzy. I heard about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, took it, and also used the Sanative Wash. I got stronger, and have not had those dizzy spells since. I feel that I owe my health to you, and hope your remedies will help others as they have me. I tried most everything I heard of, and yours are the best medicines for women's ailments."—Mrs. ELIZABETH GENTILCORE, 26 Glen Street, Buffalo, New York.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health.

Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

LONGLEY CHOSEN

AS FIRE MARSHAL.

W. E. Longley of Noblesville, will be Indiana's first state fire marshal. He is the Ninth District member of the Democratic state central committee and he personally managed Governor Ralston's campaign for nomination.

Amos F. Nelson, of Lebanon, the Governor's home town, is the new state veterinarian, succeeding W. E. Coover. His commission, good for four years, dates from yesterday.

Announcement of these appointments was made by Governor Ralston late Monday afternoon. Mr. Longley is expected to make an early announcement of the appointment of his first and second deputies and of a secretary. It is understood that John W. Minor, Jr., 2034 North Capitol avenue, Indianapolis, is to be first deputy; Roger W. Wallace, a local attorney, second deputy, and Ralph E. Richman of Tipton, a senior at Indiana University, the secretary.

The office of state fire marshal, which was established by act of the recent General Assembly, carries with it a salary of $4,000 a year. The salary of the first deputy will be $2,500; second deputy, $2,000, and the secretary, $1,200.

Appointment is Surprise.

The appointment of Mr. Longley comes as a distinct surprise. And no one was greater surprised than Mr. Longley himself. Governor Ralston had received more than a dozen applications for the plum, but in selecting Mr. Longley he appointed a man who had not been a candidate and whose name in connection with the office had not even been mentioned.

Mr. Longley had been prominently mentioned as a probable successor to C. C. Matson of this town, as a member of the State Tax Commission. James Houck, formerly of Greencastle, but now residing in Indianapolis had been mentioned as being a candidate for the fire marshal job. The announcement made today totally upsets the "dope bucket." It is now said that Mr. Houck may secure the tax commission appointment.

Three local men, Paul Hill, Jim

Hurst and Lincoln Snider, were candidates for the appointment of deputy fire marshal, which plum was landed by John W. Minor Jr. of Indianapolis.

The announcing of the appointment of Amos Nelson of Lebanon as state veterinarian takes another Greencastle man out of the race for an appointment. Dr. T. A. Sigler was an applicant for the position which went to the Lebanon man.

Putnam County Farmers' Club.

The next meeting of the club will be held on Saturday, March 29th at 1 o'clock in the assembly room of the court house. The time is made 1 o'clock instead of later as it was thought by the majority that the earlier hour would be better for those attending as it would let them start home earlier. The meeting will close at 3 o'clock or perhaps earlier. The topic for the day will be Humus and Bacteria in the Soil. It is safe to say that no other topic we have discussed on the soil during all the meetings of the winter is of so great importance to the farmers. Less is generally known about the need of humus and bacteria than any other facts of agriculture. The necessity for knowledge of these things is vital to the farmer. Economy in the production of crops and in saving of waste is largely dependent upon humus and bacteria. Every farmer who can should hear the treatment of this topic. Prof. Tilden will lead the discussion. The entire time will be given to this one topic. The election of officers will be held at the opening of the session.

MANY VIOLENT DEATHS.

February Figures Shows 168 Such Fatalities in State.

Of the 3,008 deaths in Indiana in February, 168 were due to external causes, including suicides, homicides and accidents. The homicides numbered ten, nine of the victims being men. Twenty-four men and six women took their lives and of the 128 who met death by accident 89 were men and 39 were women. Thirty-two men and one woman were killed in railroad accidents. Only one death resulted from automobile accidents. Two persons died from excessive cold. Five met death in mine accidents. The statistics of the state board of health show that pneumonia causes more deaths than any other disease, the number being 339. Pulmonary tuberculosis claimed 280 victims. No deaths resulted from smallpox, although 499 cases of the disease were reported.

CIVIL SERVICE

LAW A CLOAK.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The result of an investigation into the politics of rural mail carriers in Indiana has just been filed with Postmaster General Burleson by Louis Zoercher, secretary to William E. Cox, representative from the Third Indiana District.

It shows that under the operations of the civil service by the administration of former President Taft an overwhelming percentage of those who have secured appointments as rural carriers in Indiana are Republicans.

Through the various Democratic district chairmen Representative Cox set machinery in operation to gather rural carrier statistics for each county. The results as turned over to Postmaster General Burleson are in the nature of a preliminary report, as a number of Indiana counties have not yet been heard from.

The report submitted by Mr. Cox, through his secretary, shows the politics of rural carriers in Indiana counties.

Hendricks county is the only Fifth District County listed in the report. It shows that all of the twenty-one rural route carriers in Hendricks county are Republicans.

Putnam county is now listed. In the whole county, however, there are only two, or three Democrats who have civil service jobs.

Obituary.

Again death has entered our midst and hovered over the couch of a dear mother taking to rest one whom we all loved. Vesta Paired Dicks was born near Terre Haute, Vigo county, Ind., April 6, 1839, and died at her home in Coatesville, March 15, 1913, aged seventy-three years, eleven months and nine days. When but a small child she moved to Crawfordsville with her parents, where she resided until grown; then went to her grandmother's in Bainbridge, where she resided until her marriage to Isaac N. Dicks, which occurred April 1, 1862. To this union was born seven children, two boys and five girls of which two of the girls have preceded her to the great beyond, one dying at the age of seven years, the other at nine years. Mrs. Dicks lived all her married life on a farm with her husband, who three years ago preceded her to the great beyond; and since the death of her companion has been in very feeble health, but at all times striving to live and assist the loved ones left with her. Nearly forty-three years ago she united with the Methodist church under the pastorate of Rev. Stevens at Mt. Pleasant, Ind., where she continued a member until about twenty years ago, transferring her membership to the M. E. church at Fillmore, where she remained a member until her death. On March 2nd she was taken ill with a severe cold and everything that loving hands could do was done but at the expiration of two weeks the Angel of Death called her home. She was prepared and willing to go but often expressed a wish to live for her children. She leaves to mourn her departure two sons, Morton and Harry Dicks, of Indianapolis; three daughters, Mrs. Ruby Swinn, of Hailey, Idaho; Mrs. Carrie McVey, who has resided with her for the past two years, and Mrs. Effie Ader, of Coatesville; three sons-in-law, nine grandchildren, two brothers, Albert Paired, of Crawfordsville, and Rufus Paired, of Frankfort, and 5 host of other relatives and friends. The life of the departed one can better be interpreted by the deeds done within the family circle and among the host of friends who cherish her memory than in any words that could be written or spoken. To those who knew her it is needless to say that she was a good mother, for her entire life was wrapped up in her love for her children and grandchildren and no sacrifice was too great for her to make for their comfort. The richest heritage that she leaves behind to her children is the memory of the many kind and helpful words that have so often fallen from her sweet lips. No sweeter memory could be left behind than a heritage of this kind. Almost the entire family was by her side at the time of her death and to them she expressed a willingness to depart and be with her husband. To those gathered about her she gave instructions as to her funeral arrangements and in accordance to this desire the family have attempted to lay her at rest as near as possible in the same way that her companion was laid away.

Col. C. C. Matson, a member of the State Tax Commission, left Monday morning for Evansville where he will make his headquarters for a week, during which time he will visit several counties in that portion of the state.

Obituary.

Early in the morning of March 4 the Silent Reaper of Death visited us and took from our midst the only daughter of Hiram and Mary Tressner, Bessie Gertrude, who was born Dec. 26, 1885, being at the time of her death twenty-seven years, two months and eight days old.

She was married to Franklin Clark Oct. 3, 1910. She united with the Mill Creek Church in the year of 1904, and has lived a true believer in the power of Jesus to save and all through her years of suffering she had leaned upon his precious promises and his strong arm and was not afraid to die. She is saying: "Dear ones weep not for me for I am going to that rest prepared for the people of God, where sorrow can never come." Dear parents console yourselves in this sad hour that her every wish has been your will that nothing has been left undone that could be done. Be willing to trust at all in the honor of God for we cannot understand the mysteries of life or the suffering of death but in the future it will be made plain.

She leaves to mourn her departure her husband, father and mother and one brother, besides a host of relatives and friends.

The funeral was conducted at the house by Rev. Williams of Center Point, who took for his text, "The Lord is our refuge, our present help in time of trouble." The body was laid to rest in the Ferdie cemetery to await the resurrection morn.

GEORGE MORRIS HOME IS UNROOFED IN THE TERRE HAUTE CYCLONE

The home of George Morris at 2115 South Sixth-and-One-Half street was unroofed in the cyclone in Terre Haute Sunday night. Mr. Morris is a former Greencastle man, his wife also being a Greencastle girl.

In a brief paragraph a Terre Haute paper, in telling of the damage to the Morris home says:

"Many peculiar instances and lucky escapes marked the progress of the storm eastward. The home of G. G. Morris, 2115 South Sixth-and-One-Half street, was unroofed, but the family escaped serious injury. Mrs. Mary Neff, age 70 years, mother of Mrs. Morris, suffered a broken arm."

NEW AUTO TAXES ARE DUE JULY 1ST.

After July 1 owners of automobiles in Indiana will have to pay an annual license fee ranging from $5 to $20, the amount depending on the horse power of the machine, instead of a $1 registration fee good for all time as provided under the old law.

The chauffeur will be required to pay an annual fee of $3 for a license, which will be issued to him only after he had passed an examination to be conducted by examiners employed by the secretary of state. No person less than 18 years old will be licensed as a chauffeur.

An annual fund of several thousand dollars will be raised under the new automobile law. The money will be paid by the secretary of state into the state treasury. The state treasurer will set apart all license money as a road fund which, less the expense of carrying out the provisions of the law will be distributed among the several counties. The money will be used by the counties for the maintenance of roads.

Secretary of State Ellingham is receiving daily inquiries as to the details of the new law. While all automobiles and chauffeurs must be licensed by July 1, no license fees will be collected until the Governor issues a proclamation, expected between April 15 and May 1, declaring all the acts of the recent Legislature to be in effect.

The new law provides that all registrations shall be made to expire on Dec. 31 of each year.

The new annual license fees will be as follows: Motorcycles, $2; automobiles, twenty-five horse power or less, $5; automobiles, forty-horse power or less and more than twenty-five horse power, $8; automobiles, fifty-horse power or less and more than forty-horse power, $15; automobiles, more than fifty-horse power, $20; electric-propelled motor vehicles, $3; motor vehicles used solely for commercial purposes, $5.

The Terre Haute, Indianapolis & Eastern Traction company car service was stopped at 11:25 Tuesday morning when the waters from White River flooded the new power house on West Washington street in Indianapolis causing all power to be cut off.

Obituary.

Elizabeth A., daughter of Jacob C. and Elizabeth Rogers, was born January 8, 1863, near Greencastle, Ind., and departed this life March 8, 1913, aged forty-seven years and two months. She was united in marriage to Thomas Duree March 13, 1887. To this union was born one son, Claude E., whose wife, Lydia, has performed all duties faithfully in caring for the deceased. She was the thirteenth child of a family of fifteen children, seven daughters and eight sons, her mother and two brothers, Stephen H. and Joseph C., having preceded her in death, leaving a companion, son and wife, an aged father, six sisters, six brothers and many other friends and relatives to mourn her departure. Her life has been spent near Greencastle, Reelsville, Roachdale, Crawfordsville and Jamestown, residing at present on a farm for the past three years. Worth fail to express her suffering for many weeks known only to those visiting and administering unto her. The words of the prophet "Set this house in order" were heeded by her as she said to one who sat by her bedside, "I have tried to live right; death is no terror to me, for I will be at rest with God." She was calm, patient, never complaining. Surely she possessed all the graces of a true Christian.

We know not what it is, This sleep so deep and still, The folded hands, the awful calm, The cheeks so pale and chill, The lips that will not lift again, Though we may call and call, These strong white solitude of peace That settles over all.

WILL ASK FOR A BRICK PAVEMENT FOR SEMINARY

Frank Donner is circulating a petition among the Seminary street property owners which asks the city council to improve Seminary street with brick pavement. Mr. Donner already has a large number of signers to his petition. He states that so far no one he has seen has refused to sign it. On account of the interurban company having to pay for about a third of the improvement, the cost to the property owners would not be great and the improvement would make the street a high-class thoroughfare.
